From Cirque du Soleil to some of history's biggest fights, Las Vegas is one of the country's top spots for high profile entertainment. It is only fitting, then, that next weekend the Las Vegas' Wynn Hotel will host not only the highly anticipated bout between boxing legend Floyd Mayweather and MMA fighter Conor McGregor, but also three sets from DJ Snake.

As one of the biggest names in electronic music, DJ Snake was welcomed to play a variety of venues within the Wynn mega-complex. On Thursday, August 24, he will kick off the weekend at Intrigue before heading to the glitzy XS Nightclub for his Friday night show. DJ Snake steps down on Saturday, ceding the entertainment to the fighters while performing at Mexico's HELLO festival. The DJ and producer will close out the weekend with a pool party at the Encore Beach Club.

The Wynn Hotel, while likely ecstatic to be hosting these high demand events, has a lot on their plate for this entertainment filled weekend and both the venue and the producer are likely to be raking in the cash from this legendary fight.
